 IN THE NEWS

Summer Work for a Successful Fall

By now, most fall/winter leagues have completed their seasons and bowlers are moving on to their summer activities, which we at USBC hope include bowling in a summer league. You, however, as a league officer, can't sit back and completely rest. There are things for you to accomplish over the break to help set the table for next season. Here are a few things to review as you prepare for next season:

- Have the final averages from your league been submitted to your local association? These are due within 15 days from the end of the league.
- Did your league have elections for officers at the conclusion of the season?
- Did the league take any actions to adopt rules for next season?
- Were there any issues that the league experienced during the season that might warrant the adoption of a new rule? What might some options be that could address these issues without creating others?
- Have you contacted the bowling center to discuss your 2022-2023 league agreement?
- Has a date/time been sent for your preseason organizational meeting? How will the bowlers be notified of plans for next season?
- What plans/processes are in place to recruit more bowlers into your league?

Association Workshops and USBC assets to help your league be successful

Does your association offer a league officer workshop? If so, make plans to attend and invite the other officers of your league. The information provided at these gatherings helps disseminate important information on how to improve your league's operations and to keep everybody informed about things that are new in bowling. This season's league kits will include information for you and your bowlers showing more about the value of USBC membership. USBC also provides a host of information for our league officers to help them navigate league operations. We provide guidance of Officer Duties, Conducting Meetings, League Rules, Finances. The list goes on and on. Access all of this on the USBC League Resources page.

2022-2023 Rulebook

The 2022-2023 USBC Rulebook will be posted on BOWL.com in July. We have added a few features to the online book that make it easier to view and search for topics. The online version has been enhanced to a larger scale. The pages now are full screen, with larger font, and easier to print from BOWL.com. The rulebook will be posted at BOWL.com/Rules.

 DON'T FORGET!

Don't forget...Final averages are official as of the date the league ends and due within 15 days. If the league votes to end the schedule, final averages must be submitted to the local association within 15 days of the vote to end the league.

 DO YOUR BOWLERS KNOW?

Do Your Bowlers Know...who to contact if they intend to return to the league, need a bowler or will not be returning? Be sure bowlers have contact information to notify someone if they have questions regarding next season.
