

Four Greater Calumet Area USBC bowlers topped others in their divisions to claim Senior Singles championships titles recently at Lynwood Bowl.

Sanctioned Greater Calumet bowlers competed in divisions based on their average and age in the sixth annual event. More than $1,500 was paid out in prizes.

In Class A, for bowlers 50-59 who averaged 201 or more, John Dudak, of Orland Park, Ill., topped 41 others in the division with a 789 three-game series. The LanOak Lanes regular won $200.

Trailing Dudak by three pins was Stardust III regular Tom Lombardo, of Dyer. He took home $100 for his effort, while third-place finisher Tim Bales, of Highland, received $50 for his 780.

Bowlers 50-59 who average 200 or less were led by Schererville's Jeff Stevenson, who bowls at Kenwood Lanes in Hammond. Stevenson rolled a 680 series to best Narvell Darling's 672 in Class B. Darling, of Lynwood, won $100.

In Class C for bowlers 60 and older averaging more 201 or more, Ephriam Martin, of Chicago, took home the top prize with a 768 series. Mike Ferro, of Lansing, Ill., a Stardust III regular, trailed Martin with a 741 to win the $100 second-place prize. Gary's Evon Fortenberry, a Greater Calumet Hall of Famer, finished third with a 737. He took home $50.

Dyer resident Jim Fanelli claimed the championship in Class D, for bowlers 60 and older who average 200 or less. Fanelli rolled a 712 series to win $200. Mark Hajduk, of Munster, a Plaza Lanes bowler, won $100 for his 676 series, which was good for second place.

The four champions will also be recognized in December at the GCA's 26th annual Hall of Fame and Awards Banquet. Of the 105 entries, Jim Helmecy, of Portage, rolled the tournament's high game with a 289.
